

Symposium Systematic Reviews in Laboratory Animal Science

You are cordially invited to attend the first international symposium and one-day workshop

SYSTEMATIC REVIEWS IN LABORATORY ANIMAL SCIENCE Nijmegen, the Netherlands 9/10th February 2012

Symposium: Systematic Reviews include scientifically sound and transparent summaries of all relevant previously performed studies. Properly executed Systematic Reviews of animal studies lead to improving scientific quality, implementing the 3Rs and increase translational transparency of animal studies.

Workshop: During the second day it is possible to participate in a course and 'hands on' workshop on systematic reviews, which gives the possibility to actually practice which steps are necessary to take in the process of performing systematic reviews. Participation will be limited to 50 participants. Registration will be on a first-come first-serve basis.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Professor Malcolm Macleod

NIJMEGEN

Nijmegen, the oldest city in the Netherlands, is situated on a range of hills near the river Waal. The city has attracted people since its very foundation. The surrounding area features hills, woods and polders, creating a varied countryside offering a range of recreational opportunities to both citizens and tourists. The city is easily accessible by all means of transport. Read more...
